

Case study: JRPR Website, JRPR

Public Relations Consultancy, Justine Rawlins PR approached Wink Nudge to design and build their new website that would showcase their portfolio and testimonials.

They were looking for a solution that would allow the non-technical staff at JRPR to easily update the content while looking visually attractive to the visitors of the website.

Wink Nudge proposed the concept of a one-page website that would allow JRPR tell their story to their visitors.

“Wink Nudge are a cut above other agencies - they’re talented, creative and highly knowledgeable, but don’t try and ‘hoodwink’ you with tech-speak. They genuinely care about their clients’ work, coming up with clever solutions to deliver excellent end results. What’s more, they’re great people to work with.”
